FELLOW BRAINS!

Thanks a great big heap for sending me so many swell-Brainstorms! Beginning in the next issue of this magazine we'll print some of them — if the artist doesn't go crazy trying to draw some of the tricky contraptions!

There must be a lot of burglars loose in the country! Burglar-Alarm Brainstorms were sent in by HARRY BARRET, of San Antonio, Texas; STEVEN POWERS, Danville, Kentucky; RICHARD KIRBY, West Middletown, Ohio; and ROBERT BROWN, of Silvis, Illinois. Robert's Brainstorm really gets rough with a burglar, ending up with the crook on a junk pile!

RAYMOND CARL CRIHFIELD, of Lisbon, Ohio, thinks you can Fly Your Own Plane to School. All you need, he says, is some wood and 1000 thick rubber bands. Going in the opposite direction (down), CRAIG LEON LIEBER, of Kentfield, California, has worked out a Diving Bell that creeps along the bottom of the sea.

JOHN COWDER, in Montgomery, Alabama, has a brain that works in high gear: he sent in THREE Brainstorms! — A Mechanical Ball-Pitcher, a Fingernail-Machine, and a Dish-washer (We have one of those in my house — my Father)!

SKIP BOUCHER, of Natick, Massachusetts, invented a Water-And-Sand Alarm Clock. LARRY THOMPSON, of Baltimore, Maryland, came up with a Plant-Waterer. LARRY TEAM, of Shreveport, Louisiana, sent in an Egg-Cooker which he says the Boy Scouts could surely use. BOBBY MRAK, of Davis, California, had a Brainstorm about Falling Boxes (I'm still trying to figure that one out). GRIXBIE STEPHENS, JR., of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, dreamed up a really wonderful Mouse-Trap.

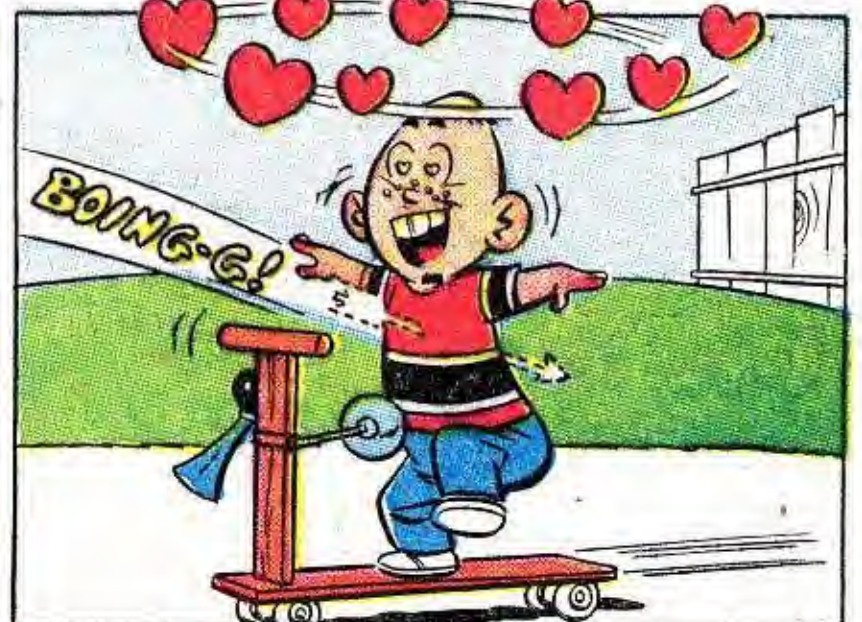

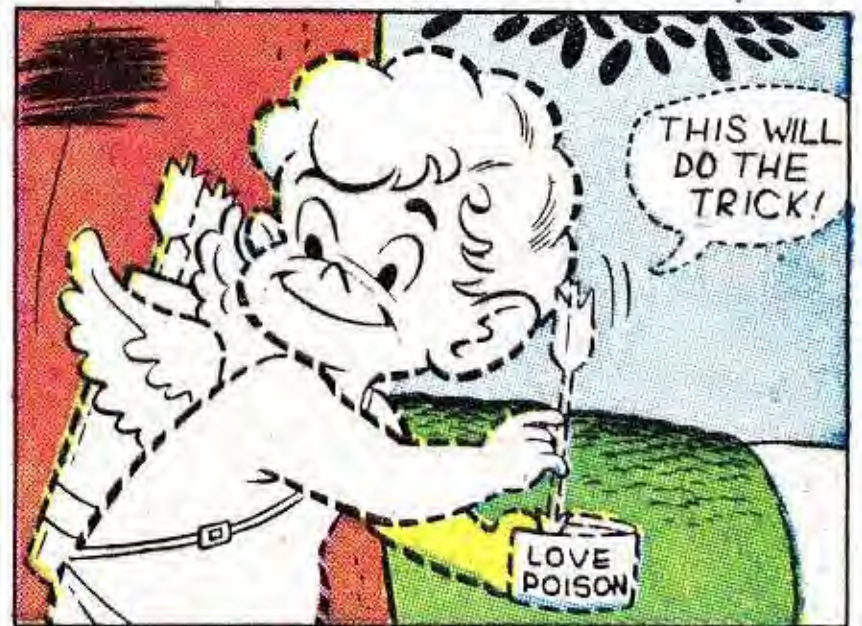

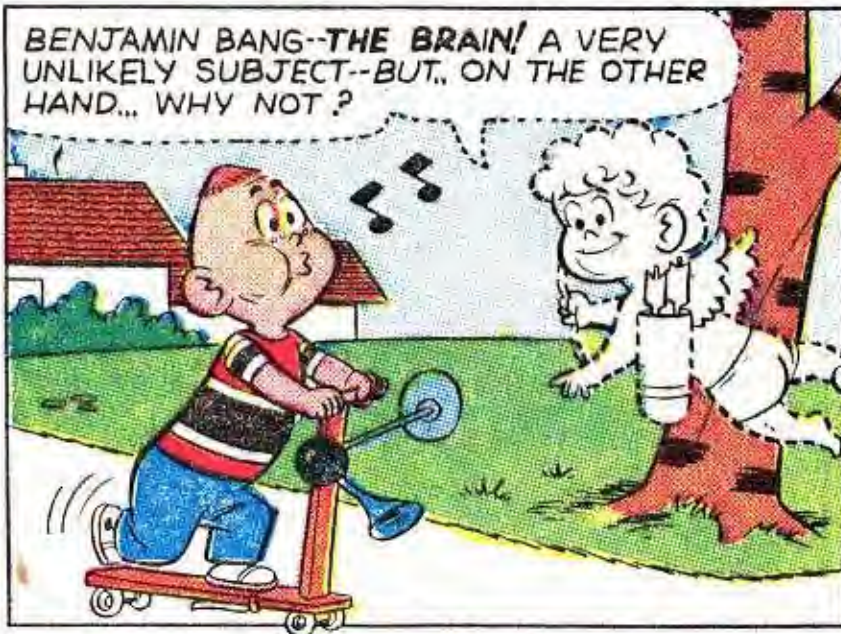

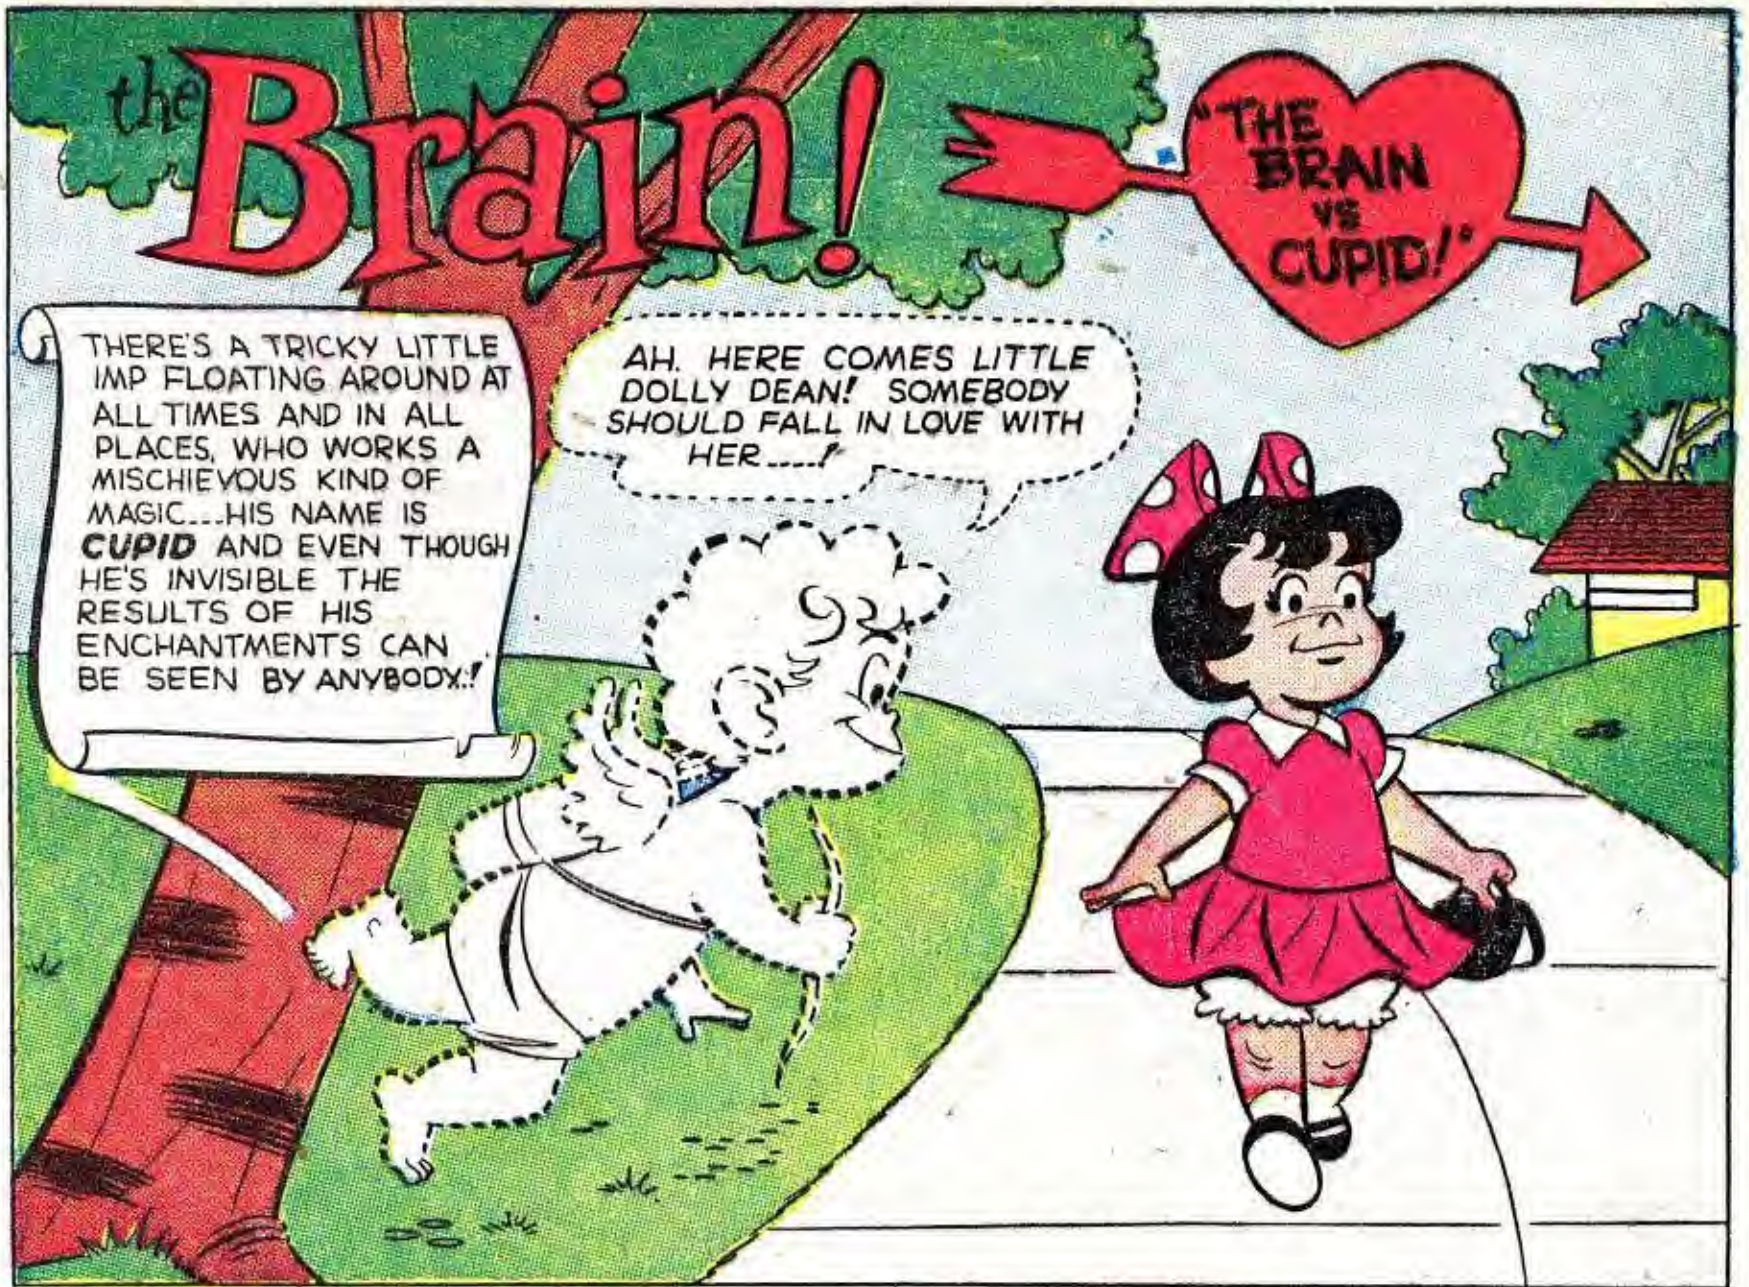

It was raining cats and dogs Brainstorms last month. JON STOUT, Bakersfield, California, had one for Letting The Cat Out; and GEORGE STOVER, of Towson, Maryland, had one for Letting The Dog In. I doubt that either animal would stick around if they saw the Brainstorms of three kids in Massachusetts! — BRUCE MIDURA, in Springfield, worked out a Cat-And-Dog Motor for a toy auto; CLAIRE BECK, of Newton Centre got together with JOAN THORMANN, of Auburndale on a way to trick your dog into his bath!

Then there were the lazy people: ED STALKER, Seattle, Washington (Turn-On-A-Phonograph-Across-The-Room-While-In Bed); PATRICIA KAY, CLEVELAND, Ohio (Get-Cake-From-Next-Room) — Oops! All out of space! 'Bye! Keep writing!
